32nd Conference

EUROSENSORS 2018

The XXXII edition of the conference series will be held in Graz, Austria, from September 9 - 12, 2018.

EUROSENSORS 2018 will be held in Graz, Austria's second largest city with the beautiful historic old town being a UNESCO World Cultural Heritage. Conference venue will be the University of Graz founded in 1585, which is one of the largest universities in Austria with about 32,500 students. Many excellent scientists, amongst them six Nobel laureates including Erwin Schroedinger, Otto Loewi and Viktor Hess have taught and researched here.

EUROSENSORS 2018 topics include:

- » Advanced Functional Materials for Sensing and Actuating
- » Micro- and Nanofabrication Technologies
- » Physical Sensors and Actuators
- » Chemical Sensors, Light Sensors and Magnetic Sensors
- » Photonic Sensor Devices
- » (Optical) MEMS & NEMS
- » Lab on Chip, Micro Analysis Devices and Microfluidics
- » Bio(medical) Sensors and Diagnostics, Neuro MEMS
- » Sensors for (Aero)space
- » Sensors for Food Industry
- » Energy Harvesting
- » System Integration, Smart Systems and Packaging
- » Embedded Systems and Signal Processing
- » Wireless Sensor Networks
- » Reliability, Modelling and Simulation
- » Special Topic I: Photonic & Quantum Sensors
- » Special Topic II: Automotive Sensors

Topic of EUROSENSORS 2018 School: „Sensors for Autonomous Driving“

General Conference Chair

Univ.-Doz. Dr. Anton Köck
Materials Center Leoben

Programme Chair

Priv.-Doz. Dr. Marco Deluca
Materials Center Leoben

Local Scientific Chair

Prof. Dr. Joachim Krenn
University of Graz

Local Organisation Chairs

Prof. Dr. Torsten Mayr
Graz University of Technology
Dipl.-Ing. ^(FH) Margit Malatschnig
Techkonnex - High-Tech Promotion

Publication Chair

Prof. Dr. Alexander Bergmann
Graz University of Technology

EUROSENSORS School Chair

Prof. Dr. Daniel Watenig
Graz University of Technology
Virtual Vehicle Research Center
